

Ella

by Alex T Smith

An original take on the Cinderella story featuring a specs-wearing ladybird

An Egyptian Escape

by K A Gerrard

Charlie has already had a narrow escape from the perils of Ancient Rome, but this time he travels back in time to an archeological dig in 1906 and then back to Ancient Egypt.

Bella and Monty: A Hairy, Scary Night

by Alex T Smith

Best friends Bella Bones and Monty Mittens have lots in common - but the big difference between them is that Monty is terrified of everything.

Smile!

by Leigh Hodgkinson

When Sunny gets told she must not eat chocolate biscuits before teatime, she is very annoyed, and loses her smile.

You're a Bad Man, Mr Gum!

by Andy Stanton

Mr Gum is an extremely nasty man who hates everyone and lives in a disgusting tip of a house.

Boy

by James Mayhew

Boy, a cave-boy, thinks the cave where he lives with his mother and father is too cold and dark. He tries a variety of other places to sleep, but all prove to be too dangerous.

Who is King?

by Beverley Naidoo and Piet Grobler

Subtitled Ten Magical Stories from Africa, Beverley Naidoo's collection comes from the rich folklore of Ethiopia, Ghana, Nigeria, Tanzania, Malawi, Lesotho, Zimbabwe and South Africa.

Itch Scratch Scratch

by Eleanor Updale and Sarah Horne

Head lice are the focus of this fun and engaging picture book. The dyslexia-friendly features make this book highly accessible.

The Robot Dinner Lady

by Michael Broad

In these three short stories Jake tells his own incredible tales of the mayhem which follows when a normal boy investigates a variety of what seem to him to be unbelievable events.

The Bare Bum Gang and the Football Face Off

by Anthony McGowan

As everyone knows, a gang's den is sacred no matter how dirty, dark or smelly it may be so when the Bare Bum Gang's den is at risk they will do anything they can to save it.

There's an Ouch in My Pouch!

by Jeanne Willis

Willaby Wallaby is throwing a wobbly...He's quite determined he still needs a pouch to live in, but suddenly it's just too knobbly, wodgy, wedgy and wriggly and so he jumps out.

Atticus Claw Breaks the Law

by Jennifer Gray

Atticus Claw is the world's greatest cat burglar, but things change when he is hired by a group of magpies to steal some jewels.

Thawing Frozen Frogs

by Brian Patten

Critically acclaimed poet Brian Patten covers a wide variety of styles and subject matter in this collection of poems with something for everyone.

Edwina

by Mo Willems

Everyone loves Edwina: she bakes chocolate-chip cookies for people and helps old ladies across roads. The fact she's a dinosaur seems to bother no-one.

Angela Nicely: Cupcake Wars

by Alan Macdonald

Three short chapter books in one small volume, containing the further adventures of Angela Nicely. The clear text and funny illustrations complement each other well, and encourage readers to move swiftly through the stories.

Fuzz McFlops

by Eva Furnari

This is a wonderfully quirky tale, with endearing characters and delightfully amusing illustrations.

Animal Tales

by Terry Jones

Terry Jones's irreverent wit and quirky humour make a compendium of stories that will be enjoyed by children and adults alike

Mine!

by Rachel Bright

One day Fifi and Frankie go to visit Grandma Flo and they both want to hold Funny Bunny. After some arguing they pull him in different directions and off come his ears.

Flapjack and Waddle and the Polar Bear

by Jaquess Duquennoy

On their search for the North Pole, two little penguins, Flapjack and Waddle, meet a lost polar bear.

Funny Face

by Nicola Smee

This board book for the youngest readers has bright, funny bold drawings and a simple text exploring a considerable variety of feelings, all eventually happily resolved.

The Crocodile Who Didn't Like Water

by Gemma Merino

Little crocodile doesn't like water. It's cold. It's wet. It's embarrassing.

Never Ask a Dinosaur to Dinner

by Gareth Edwards

This fabulously daft tale around a child's evening routine is the perfect bedtime book to share.

I'm the Best

by Lucy Cousins

Dog's friends become dejected by his boastfulness, before realising that they all have things they do well too.

Foxy Tales: The Cunning Plan

by Caryl Hart

This fun chapter book from the lively pairing of Caryl Hart and Alex T Smith is the first in a new series, which brings back the characters from Smith's popular picture books Egg and Catch Us if You Can-Can.

The Giant's Loo Roll

by Nicholas Allan

A giant is caught short when his loo roll drops to the floor and rolls away. As it rolls through the town the people make use of the enormous sheets to devise all sorts of useful creations.

A Boy and a Bear in a Boat

by Dave Shelton

Imagine travelling on a boat with a polar bear as your captain.

Thorfinn and the Awful Invasion

by David MacPhail

Thorfinn is possibly the nicest and politest Viking that ever lived, which is absolutely no good at all from the point of view of his dad, Chief Harald the Skull-Splitter, who wants him to Viking-up a bit more. So Harald decides to send Thorfinn to Scotland on a boat full of nasty smelly Vikings to toughen him up?

The Fabulous Flapdoodles

by Chae Strathie

This funny book, whose rhyming text will be easily learnt as a spell to ward off bedtime fears

On the Road with Mavis and Marge

by Niamh Sharkey

Mavis the cow and Marge the chicken have read about the big world beyond the farm and one day they set off for somewhere 'far away'

Monkey Puzzle

by Julia Donaldson

Monkey is lost in the jungle, so he asks Butterfly to help him find his mum. However, Butterfly cannot seem to understand that Monkey and his mum look alike!

Fish-Head Steve

by Jamie Smart

This collection of comic strips does exactly what it says on the tin: a boy called Steve wakes up one day to discover he has a giant fish for a head.

Elsie and the Magic Biscuit Tin

by Phil Earle

Elsie's funny adventure is illustrated colourfully and with lots of expression by Jamie Littler, providing a warm cautionary tale for younger children.

The Worst Witch to the Rescue

by Jill Murphy

Mildred Hubble is actually looking forward to the new term at Miss Cackle's Academy for Witches. Her holiday project can't fail to impress Miss Hardbroom, her form teacher...

A House in the Woods

by Inga Moore

There's lots for young readers to discover and discuss in the illustrations, with a lovely message of friendship and helpfulness

Blobheads

by Paul Stewart and Chris Riddell

Ever wondered what might rise out of the toilet when you lift the lid? In Billy Barnes' case it's the Blobheads, three incompetent aliens...

Little Brother and the Cough

by Hiawyn Oram

A little girl develops a noisy, disruptive cough which seems to get worse whenever her new baby brother is mentioned.

It's So Unfair!

by Pat Thomson

When Cat feels unfairly treated and is put out of the house, Farmer takes pity on him and lets him in. But when he makes a puddle on Farmer's favourite chair, out he goes again!

Romans on the Rampage

by Jeremy Strong

Strong's hilarious and pun-filled text, and Rowan Clifford's numerous excellent comic illustrations provide an ideal introduction to Roman life.

Ribticklers!

by Michael Rosen

From a rajah with big ears to an orphan with enormous feet, all sorts of hilarious characters live among the pages of this funny collection.

I Need a Wee!

by Sue Hendra and Paul Linnet

Alan the bear is having a fantastic time at the funfair until he starts dancing in that unmistakable way and his friends have to help him find somewhere he can have a wee. But unfortunately there's nowhere to go, until Alan stumbles onto a stage and manages to win a most useful (and capacious) trophy.

The Book with No Pictures

by B J Novak

Demanding to be shared, this is a fresh and enormously funny book that children will want to hear time and time again.

Welcome to the Family

by Mary Hoffman

Fabulously comprehensive yet easily accessible, Welcome to the Family will be indispensable to anyone looking to promote understanding of diversity.

Timmy Failure: Mistakes Were Made

by Stephan Pastis

Meet Timmy Failure - a terminally over-confident middle school pupil attempting to make millions by solving local mysteries, such as who ate his classmates' unattended Halloween candy.

Denver

by David McKee

A fable told in classic David McKee style, complete with striking colours and a slightly surreal illustration style

Little Legends: the spell thief

by Tom Percival

When new boy Anansi arrives in Tale Town, everyone welcomes him to his new home, except for Jack. Missing a parent and feeling uneasy about a new friend are handled in an interesting, engaging way that doesn't push the moral.

The Unlikely Adventures of Mabel Jones

by Will Mabbitt

Mabbitt sprinkles his text with plenty of daringly naughty words, which will engage his readers.

Zog

by Julia Donaldson

Zog is a keen dragon at Dragon School who aims to be the best in his class and win a golden star.

Stuck in the Mud

by Jane Clarke

One of hen's chicks is stuck in the mud! Hen tries to push and pull him out, but she gets stuck too.

Monkey Nuts: The Diamond Egg of Wonders

by Robin Etherington and Lawrence Etherington

This graphic novel follows a crazy, crime-busting team known as 'Monkey Nuts'. Sid, Rivet and Chief Tuft must work together to battle monsters and oddballs.

Witch Watch

by Sibéal Pounder

Third in an illustrated series of funny and original witch stories. Full of goodies, baddies, thrills, spills and slapstick humour.